Positive first CMT stocktake and two awards for Lyseo Gallery TD

- High visitor footfall at Bürstner's stand at the CMT 2023
- Unabated strong interest in the new Lyseo Gallery TD and the Delfin C
- Two awards for the Lyseo Gallery TD during the exhibition

Stuttgart. The Kehl-based manufacturer's first stocktake halfway through the exhibition is positive. On the first weekend, Bürstner's exhibition stand in Hall 1, which extends over 1,280 square metres, was already extremely busy. Three long-established Bürstner retailers are exhibiting the company's motorhomes, camper vans, urban vehicles and caravans in Stuttgart this year. Vehicle hire and accessories are also on offer at the exhibition stand. However, the visitors had to exercise a little patience, as long queues formed in front of the innovations, especially the Lyseo Gallery TD with its inflatable overcab alcove as well as the camper van Delfin C.

Double award winner

Straightaway, the Lyseo Gallery TD also won two important awards on the first exhibition weekend: on Saturday, 14 January, it was voted "Motorhome of the Year" runner-up in the category "Overcab models over €70,000" by the readers of promobil magazine.

On Sunday, 15 January, it was then awarded the "European Innovation Award" in the category "Overall concept motorhome" by an international jury consisting of trade journalists. With a total of eight prizes, the Lyseo Gallery TD is therefore now the Bürstner motorhome that has won the most awards.

"We are very proud of the fact that our Lyseo Gallery TD concept of "Travel small, live large" has proved so popular with the customers and the trade magazines," says Bürstner's head of marketing Thorsten Erhardt. "I get the impression that the market is waiting for home- away-from-home innovations that offer genuine added value, like the Lyseo Gallery TD's extendable, clever use of space in a rather compact vehicle. Our inflatable overcab living concept fully meets this expectation."

The production of the new Lyseo Gallery TD model range will begin in the spring of 2023.

Bürostner's anticipates that the high level of visitor interest will continue during the second half of the exhibition. The CMT 2023 still runs until Sunday, 22 January 2023.
